"HASTACC" Opens April 4

Paul Younger, active member of "HASTACC", is shown above with collection of split oak baskets he makes, a skill rarely seen today.

The Historic Appomattox Station Arts and Crafts Center will open for business April 4 at 11:30 a.m. and will operate 6 days a week, Tuesday Saturday 11:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. and Sunday 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

All craftsmen are asked to bring their items to the Depot on the 3rd and have each article marked with inventory number and retail price. Numbers assigned in 1974 are to be used again in 1975. New members are welcomed and should come by the center to join. Consignment forms are available from Geraldine Marshall or at the center.

We plan to have classes available in the future for anyone interested in learning more about various crafts. These classes will be announced in the near future.

The Arts and Crafts Center features many local artists and craftsmen including Mr. Paul Younger who makes Split Oak Baskets. Paul decided to try basket making, a skill rarely seen today, after taking with a friend one day about various things people make by using their hands. He had never tried Basketry but remembered watching as his grandmother and mother made baskets and "bottomed" chairs.

In making splits, the proper selection of timber in crucial. The tree should be a white oak sapling four to six inches in diameter. Its trunk should be absolutely straight, untwisted, and unmarred by limbs, knots, or imperfections for at least seven feet.

After this selection is made the oak is rived (torn apart) and made into splits (thin strips). The ribs for the basket are made out of heavy, quarter-inch thick splits and are used to make the frame. When the shape of the basket is formed, Paul uses the thin green splits to weave a simple repeating pattern. The weaving process on a medium size basket takes about 6 to 7 hours. Although Paul puts a lot of time into each basket he says the joy of creating makes it all worth while. Paul will be demonstrating basket weaving each Sunday afternoon at the depot and we invite you to come by.

Concord Garden Club Met March 12

The Concord Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Dewey Booth Monday, March 12, with Mrs. James McNair acting as co-hostess. Despite the inclement weather members turned out, and enjoyed the delicious and varied refreshments, both before and after the meeting! Devotions were given by Mrs. McNair, who read poem and concluded with a prayer by Thomas Jefferson.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Roy Davidson. The minutes were read by Dr. Mae Kelly, and accepted. One Nature Camp reservation has been confirmed for this summer, and a check sent for the State Life Membership. Mrs. Charles Graf gave a short report on the Regional Convention held in Williamsburg. Five members attended the Friday, March 7 session. Dr. Kelly reported on the business meeting held the same day. The District meeting was announced. It will be held April 8 in Farmville, and members were urged to attend. The club voted to send a contribution to Keep Virginia Beautiful again this year. The slate of officers was presented for the 1975-76 year and was approved by the membership. Officers are Mrs. Roy Davidson, president; Mrs. C. P. Mr. James McNair was welcomed to the group at this time. Mrs. Phelps presented the program on "African Violets and Other Houseplants." She gave a detailed a report on the culture of violets, and had many suggestions from members. She also used as her specialty the episia, a variety of African Violet. Mrs. Charles Graf gave a few tips on cacti, succulents, and geraniums, and Mrs. Roy Davidson advised members of the growing conditions required by the grape ivey, peperomia, and an unknown variety of fern. Mrs. R. N. LaChapelle, Mrs. Dewey Booth, and Mrs. McNair all had suggestions on growing for the younger members. After the completion of the program the members had a plant exchange, and every one went home with at least two new varieties.

Ribbons were given for the following: Artistic: Blue, Mesdames Graf; Olsen; Davidson. Red, Mrs. Graf. Horticulture: Blue, Mrs. Davidson, Red, Mrs. Phelps.

"Job Fair" Held At CVCC

The Junior and Senior classes at Appomattox County High School had an opportunity to visit the "Job Fair" at Central Virginia Community College Monday and Tuesday, March 24 & 25.

This was the first year such a program had been scheduled for high school students. Planning and organization of this event involved area school personnel, including Appomattox County Superintendent of Schools, Lloyd G. Walton, Central Virginia Industries, Lynchburg Personnel and Guidance Association, and the Lynchburg Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Pauline F. DePew, Appomattox County High School counselor, served on the steering committee.

The "Job Fair" featured representatives from various area businesses, industries, and organizations, an acquainted students with job opportunities in Central Virginia. The personnel officers informed students of entry level jobs, employment outlook, and career opportunities. With graduation just a few months away, this was very important information for young job seekers.

The Senior class of ACHS was taken by bus to CVCC on Tuesday, March 25, and were accompanied by several members of the high school faculty.

All Juniors were urged to take advantage of this opportunity. A special night session was held Monday night, March 24 from 6:00 - 8:00 p.m. Parents are invited to participate in this event.

Corn and Oats Seedings To Dip In '75, Sorghum, Barley To Be Up

U. S. Corn growers intend to plant about 76.1 million acres of corn for all purpose in 1975, down less than one percent from the corn planted last year, but 8 percent above 1973, James R. Ford, Jr., Chairman of the Appomattox County ASC Committee reported.

"The slightly higher corn acreage planted in 1974 was 76.5 million, while 70.7 million was the lower 1973 acreage" he said. Virginia plantings of corn will be about 755,000 acres, one percent more than 1974".

The combined feed grains - - corn, sorghum, oats, and barley - - plantings are expected to be up one percent (1.4 million acres) over 1974 and 2 percent larger than the 1973 acreage.

Mr. Ford indicated that, nationally sorghum growers intend to plant about 19.4 million acres in 1975, up 10 percent from 1974 and one percent above 1973 seedings. Virginia plantings of sorghum will be about 28,000 acres, about the same as 1974.

Oats seeding in the fall plus intended spring acreage around the nation are expected to total 17.3 million, 4 percent below 1974 and 9 percent less than 1973. Virginia plantings of oats will be about 84,000 acres, one percent less than 1974.

Fall seeded barley plus intended plantings this spring, nationally, totals 9.4 million acres, 8 percent, or 692,000 acres more than last year. Virginia plantings of barley will be about 129,000 acres, three percent more than 1974.

Mr. Ford said the survey of planting estimates is conducted by the crop reporting board of the Statistical Reporting Service (SRS) of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to assist producers and program planners in their plans for 1975.

Puritan Pulpit

"AND LO, I AM WITH YOU ALWAYS" . . Matt. 28:20

It is well there is One who is always the same, and who is ever with us. It is well there is one stable rock amidst the billows of the sea of life. Set not your affections upon rusting, moth-eaten, decaying treasures, but set your heart upon Him who stays forever faithful to you. Build not your house upon the moving quicksands of a deceitful world, but build your hopes upon this rock, which, even in the rain and floods, shall stand immovably secure. Lay up your treasure in the only secure bank, store your jewels where you may look upon them. Put your all in Christ; set all your affections on His person, all your hope in His merit, all your trust in His efficacious blood and all your joy in His presence.

Remember that all the flowers in the world's garden fade by turns, and the day will come when nothing will be left but the black, cold earth. Death's black extinguisher must soon put out your candle. How sweet to have sunlight when the candle is gone! The dark flood must soon roll between you and all you have; then give your heart to Him who will never leave you; trust yourself with Him who will go with you through the black and surging current of death's stream, and who will land you safely on the celestial shore, and make you sit with Him in heavenly places forever. Go tell your sorrows to the Friend who sticks closer than a brother. Trust all your concerns with Him who never can be taken from you, who will never leave you, and who will never let you leave Him, even "Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, and today, and forever."
